You will make a “trading card” for a deity (god or goddess), creature, or hero that contains the following information:

FRONT OF CARD

- a- Greek AND Roman name – correctly labeled
- b- A picture/original drawing of the character (The picture must be clear. It could be a drawing, piece of clip art, photo of an ancient statue or painting or magazine clipping- be creative!)

BACK OF CARD

- a- Relationship to other gods or famous mortals. (Give the names of parents, brothers, sisters, and/or children. Be thorough!)
- b- Domain or Realm: What is this deity in charge of? There may be more than one area. (sky, travelers, etc.)
- c- Symbols: What objects are identified with each deity? Each god or goddess will probably have more than one symbol.
- d- Brief summary. Write at least one paragraph summarizing this character.

Greek/Roman Gods, Goddesses, Creatures, and Heroes: Trading Card Project

Ancient Greece and Ancient Rome were polytheistic societies; they believed in and worshipped many different gods. Both societies had a Pantheon, or set, of gods and goddesses that they worshipped. Each god and goddess had certain unique qualities that characterized him or her. Early Greeks and Romans would pray or worship the particular god who had control over that area of life. The most prominent gods in ancient Greece and Rome were very similar.

For this project, you will make “trading cards” of the gods, goddesses, mythological creatures, and heroes on the list below. Use the following source: <https://rome.mrdonn.org/romangods/>
